RIDEX position sensors protect internal components from damage for longer thanks to their durable construction. A flexible O-ring ensures a leak-tight connection to the engine block.

- Extreme heat resistance prevents internal short-circuits.
- High-quality, durable components manufactured according to OE specifications fit perfectly and protect against mechanical damage.
- The sensing and signal power is improved by dual-protected plug connections.
- Fastening lugs keep the sensor securely in position.
- Each sensor is packaged in a protective antistatic film.
